Sue Garton

Sue has been performing as a handbell soloist since 1993. She has been a featured performer in concert series throughout the U.S. and performed with a choir in Kiev, Ukraine. She has published 15 solo handbell arrangements. Sue is currently the director of the Village Handbells, a bell choir at Masonic Village at Sewickley. She also performs at church services for residents.

Bryan Timm

Bryan graduated from Mercyhurst University's D'Angelo School of Music with a concentration in organ performance and a business administration minor. His organbuilding apprenticeship with the Fischer Organ Company of Erie was under the tutelage of Paul Fischer. Bryan serves as Vice-President of Organ Supply Industries, Inc, and received the AIO Fellow Certificate in 2011.

Steve Woods

Steve holds degrees in Music Education from SUNY Fredonia. A retired school music teacher, having taught students from age three to college, he is the conductor of the Lake Erie Choral Artists, and for the last 27 years, the Director of Music at Christ First UMC in Jamestown, NY. Steve and his wife Michele reside in Fredonia, NY, and are the parents of five and the grandparents of six (soon-to-be seven!)
